FARM RELIEF BILL DEFEATED

House Rejects the Measure by a Vote of 224 to 154.

WESTERN SOLONS SUPPORT IT

German Relief Proposals Defeated by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee—LaFollette Group Loses in Its Efforts to Block Adjournment on June 7—Proposed Legislation Receives Death Blow.

Washington, June 4.—Action of the senate in accepting the house resolution to adjourn June 7 is taken as a death blow to important pending legislation, including the world court proposal, farm relief, rail rate and Muscle Shoals.

Senator LaFollette was voted down in the senate in his attempt to prevent adjournment of congress Saturday, so that action might be obtained on farm relief and rail rate legislation. The senate rejected his resolution, which would have called for return of both houses after a month's recess, and then passed the house adjournment resolution by a vote of 53 to 36.

Senator Underwood (Dem., Ala.) sought unsuccessfully to obtain unanimous consent to make the pending Muscle Shoals bill the unfinished business of the senate. He then served notice that at the earliest opportunity he would move formally for consideration of the bill.

The fish resolution, appropriating $10,000,000 to buy foodstuffs for German relief, was defeated by the senate foreign relations committee by a vote of 11 to 6, party lines being discarded. A proposal to extend a government loan to Germany for relief also was defeated by a vote of 11 to 5.

A resolution by Senator Owen of Oklahoma to investigate the cause of the world war was also rejected by the committee by a vote of 9 to 6.

The McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, principal measure proposed by the farm bloc for agricultural aid this session, was defeated in the house by a vote of 224 to 154.

An attempt by friends of the bill to diminish opposition before the final vote by restricting the scope of the measure to wheat, flour, swine and food products thereof, was defeated, 69 to 101.

The farm relief bill would have created a $200,000,000 federal corporation to handle the exportation of basic farm products, with a view to "dumping" farm surpluses abroad to restore equality of farm products prices and those of other commodities.

There was a sharp break in house party lines in the voting on the relief measure. Democrats and Republicans from the middle and northwest rallying to the bill's support, while members from eastern states, irrespective of party, and many southern Democrats, opposed it.

BLOOM TO RUN AGAIN

Seeks Third Term as Lieutenant Governor of Ohio.

Columbus, June 4.—Lieutenant Governor Earl D. Bloom, Bowling Green, will be a candidate for a third term, it was indicated when request was received from Bloom by the secretary of state for a blank declaration of candidacy. Bloom, a Democrat, served his first term in 1917-18, under Governor Cox. He was defeated for re-election in 1918, but came back in 1922 and defeated William Chatfield, Cincinnati, Republican nominee. Former Congressman Henry L. Emerson of Cleveland, appears as a new entry into the fight for Republican nomination for lieutenant governor. He has secured a candidacy blank from the secretary of state. Blank was also secured by Evan E. Watkins, Cleveland, for nomination for lieutenant governor. Watkins did not specify his politics.

Governor Vic Donahey plans to file his declaration of candidacy late today or tomorrow for renomination for governor on the Democratic ticket. Donahey's blank petition, sent to his old home, New Philadelphia, for nominating signatures, is expected back here today.

Exports of automobile tires added another $2,746,000. The Ohio cash register, known wherever there is any cash to register, accounts for $1,000,000 of the January-March exports. Coal shipped from Ohio during the three months was valued at $2,500,000, and crude petroleum exports at $1,145,000. Packing house products exported included lard worth $1,472,000, and the balance of the quarter's exports is composed of miscellaneous items. Ohio's total exports for the quarter amounted to $35,000,000.

CHILD LABOR ACT UP TO STATES

Proposes an Amendment to Federal Constitution.

NOW BEFORE THE PRESIDENT

Resolution Will Be Submitted to the States When It Receives Approval of Coolidge—Emergency Appropriation Necessary to Make Refund on Income Taxes Paid in Full Last March—Instructions Sent Out.

Washington, June 4.—President Coolidge has received from the senate the joint resolution proposing a child labor amendment to the constitution.

When the measure receives presidential approval it will be sent to the states for ratification. The proposed amendment would change the constitution so as to give the federal government the right to "limit, regulate and prohibit" the labor of persons under 18 years of age—a right which the United States supreme court has denied in two decisions.

Although President Coolidge has expressed himself in favor of the amendment, his approval of the resolution is not required.

The senate adopted the resolution after heated debate by a vote of 61 to 23. Principal opposition was based on the states' right argument, many senators arguing that it is not in the province of the federal government to regulate child labor. Senator Reed (Dem., Mo.) declared that the proposal is "socialistic, bolshevistic, almost anarchistic." All efforts to amend the resolution failed. If ratified it will become the twentieth amendment to the constitution.

An emergency appropriation of approximately $20,000,000 will be necessary to make a refund of 25 per cent to taxpayers who paid their full income tax on March 15, it was said at the treasury department.

Regulations and instructions to taxpayers and collectors will be sent out to collectors at once so that there will be no question of the reduction being effective on June 15. If the entire tax was paid last March the treasury department automatically will refund the sum due. If only a quarter was paid then the taxpayer will be permitted to deduct half of the June installment and a quarter from each of the installments due in September and December.

The new law provides other material relief for every taxpayer in the nation. Normal taxes, surtaxes, corporations and admission taxes and a long list of other levies are reduced. A new system of administrative features are provided.

AERONAUTS KILLED

Thrown From Great Height When Balloon Is Hit by Lightning.

Monticello, Ill., June 4.—C. LeRoy Meisinger, 29, weather bureau expert from Washington, and Lieutenant James T. Neely, 30, pilot, Philadelphia, were killed four miles south of here, when they were thrown from a great height after the balloon in which they were charting air currents had been struck by lightning. Bodies of the two men were found by farmers of the vicinity who were passing through the field. Meisinger was thrown clear of the balloon and fell nearly a mile from the spot where the balloon with Lieutenant Neely's body, entangled in the ropes, landed. An army dirigible from Scott field in Indiana arrived here to take back the bodies. Lieutenant Neely, a veteran of the world war, had served in both American and British armies. He was a skilled pilot.

SHOP MERGER PLANNED

Ford to Have Extensive Plant Near South Charleston.

Springfield, O., June 4.—Plans for car shops and other buildings to be built on the new site of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad at South Charleston, Clark county, have been authorized by Henry Ford, who recently purchased nearly 2,000 acres of land near the village. The report indicated that the new railroad car repair shops at Jackson, Ironton and Springfield will be merged on the new site near South Charleston and will provide means for handling the repair work of the railroad system from this point. The report states that extensive railroad yards are to be built at South Charleston with storage tracks capable of accommodating about 300 carsloads of coal so that fuel may be quickly handled when needed at the Ford plants in Detroit.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Wrong Man Executed?

Dayton, O., June 4.—Chester Mapes, former Dayton policeman, has consulted Coroner E. E. Kimmel about reopening the Moore murder case, expressing the belief that he has evidence which will prove innocent Irvin Laver, who was electrocuted Nov. 2, 1923, at the Ohio penitentiary. Arthur Moore, 14, on May 19, 1922, was lured into a field and choked to death. Laver was caught upon complaint of assault four months later and is said to have confessed to the killing of the Moore boy. The executed man during his stay in death row at the penitentiary stoutly maintained his innocence.

PROBING FRANKS MURDER CASE

Grand Jury Hears Stories of Many Witnesses.

STATE EXPECTS INDICTMENTS

Efforts Made by Chicago Police to Place Responsibility For Other Crimes on Leopold and Loeb, the "Young Intellectuals," Who Confessed to the Murder of the Franks Boy—Developments of the Day.

Chicago, June 4.—The Cook county grand jury is investigating the case of Nathan Leopold and Robert Loeb, students, who are charged with the murder of Robert Franks, 14.

State's Attorney Crowe has summoned 35 witnesses. He will ask that indictments charging the two young intellectuals with first degree murder be returned.

Efforts to place responsibility for additional crimes upon the millionaires' sons are under way following their identification by Charles Ream, taxicab chauffeur, as the youths who attacked him last fall, spirited him away in a motor car, rendered him unconscious with ether and then performed a crude gland operation upon him. The chauffeur was positive in his identification.

Police also are attempting to discover evidence to confirm their suspicion that the two students also are the men who killed Louis Tracy, a fellow student with them in the University of Chicago, shot after he had been induced to enter a motor car near the Leopold home.

Tracy was slain Nov. 25 and his body thrown into the street. Police have been working on the case ever since on the theory he was killed by gland bandits, who were unable to perform an operation because of the terrific struggle he put up, and were forced to kill him. Two automatic pistols similar to the weapons with which Tracy was shot, have been found in Leopold's room, police said.

With Ream's identification of Leopold and Loeb as his attackers, authorities announced they would investigate every recent unexplained crime on Chicago police records in the belief that the millionaire college students may have been connected with them. "There is no telling where our investigations will lead us," Crowe said. "These boys, if they were capable of kidnapping an innocent school boy and murdering him, may be guilty of many other crimes."

TOTAL U. S. WEALTH IS $320,000,000,000

Shows 72.2 Per Cent In- crease in Ten Years.

Washington.—The American nation, reputed to be the richest in the world, is worth $320,808,802,000, the Department of Commerce reported recently.
In ten years, between December 31, 1912, and December 31, 1922, when the last survey was made, the national wealth increased 72.2 per cent. On December 31, 1912, it was placed at $189,299,664,000.

Per capita wealth increased from $1,950 in 1912 to $2,918 in 1922, an increase of 49.6 per cent.

The huge increase in the money value of the nation's wealth, the department said, is due principally to the rise in prices in recent years, and not entirely to a corresponding increase in the quantity of wealth, as economists figure it.

All classes of property, except live stock, increased in value in the ten-year period, the department reported.
The estimated value of taxed real property and improvements increased from $96,923,406,000 to $155,908,025,
000, or 60.9 per cent.

Exempt real property, exclusive of national parks and monuments, rose
from $12,313,520,000 to $20,505,119,000,
or 66.5 per cent.

Stocks of goods, vehicles other than motor, furniture and clothing rose
from $34,334,291,000 to $75,983,607,000,
or 121.3 per cent.

Railroads and their equipment rose
from $16,148,522,000 to $19,950,900,
000, or 28.5 per cent.

Privately owned telephone and transmission enterprises, other than railroads, increased from $9,572,855, 000 to $13,607,570,000, or 42.1 per cent.

Manufacturing machinery, tools and implements rose from $6,091,451,000 to $15,753,260,000, or 159.1 per cent, an indication of the industrial expansion of the country.

Farm implement machinery increased from $1,368,225,000 to $2,604,
638,000, or 90.4 per cent.

Live stock values slumped from $9, 238,339,000 to $5,807,164,000, or 6.9 per cent.

Other increases reported follow:
Privately owned water works from $290,000,000 to $360,885,000, or 24.4 per cent; gold and silver coin and bullion from $2,616,643,000 to $4,278,155, 000 or 63.5 per cent, and the United States navy from $402,352,000 to $1,
445,992,000, or 259.4 per cent.

Suddite Found in Nile Is Equivalent of Coal

New York.—For centuries it has been remarked and returning travelers relate today that a strange growth of thick weeds and sedge near the surface of the water of the Nile, above Khartum, is responsible for the impassability
of the river at that point.

French scientists, after a painstaking investigation of this twiggy, weedy, grassy, soggy, fiber-like mass called suddite, constructed first a theory that this was the sort of stuff that, under proper geological conditions, became what we recognize as coal, and they set about to prove their hypothesis.

There are 35,000 square miles of this Nile suddite. It roots about three feet beneath the surface of the river and grows to about twenty feet in height
from the bed of the Nile.

Now, the first step taken by these scientists was to arrange for the transportation of the suddite to Khartum.
The natives, every three weeks, cut the mass down, tie it in faggots, make rafts of the material and float it to Khartum.

French "Beauty Doctor" Kills Man's Beard Forever

Paris.—Men may now have a clean, smooth face without shaving at all.
Nor do they even have to apply anything to it after a treatment by a French "beauty doctor."

The treatment is not an electrical device, but consists of exposure of the face to certain light rays. After three treatments no further application is necessary. No beard will grow and an attractive complexion is implanted. The inventor is doing a tremendous business and will soon invade the United States.

Her Cooking Brought Him

Owingsville, Ky.—A romance of 50 years ago culminated in the marriage here recently of James F. Stull, seventy-eight, and Mrs. Georgianna Swartz, seventy-five. Etull came here recently from his home at Paola, Kan., and met Mrs. Swartz, a widow, whom he had courted as a youth. Her cooking won him back, he says.

673,827 Soldiers Now in French Army

Paris.—The total effectives of the French metropolitan and colonial troops as fixed for March 1, 1924, will be 673,827 men, according to Minister of War Mignot. These figures, he said, are the minimum to which the French army can be reduced and still provide adequate protection for France.

The amount placed in the budget for 1924 for the sustenance and equipment of these troops is 1,312,000,000 francs.

You Can "Shoo" Bears Away if You Know How

Mostly bears are humorous clowns, lazy, good natured, whose general appearance is of one who would like not only to live at peace with life, but who would love to sit fatly down and joke about it.

But once in a blue moon there is a cattle killing, swashbuckling, dare-devil outlaw among the lot, and he gives a reputation to the whole tribe.

Rare even in the case of the famous grizzly, this is especially so in the case of the black or brown bear. The latter is essentially a peace loving citizen.
His main desire is to get away. Even when encountered at such close quarters that most animals put up a panic fight, his mind is still focused on getting away.

He is very fond of wild berries and may frequently be encountered in the berry patches. Becoming aware of the presence of humans—also after berries —he stands up on his hind legs the better to see what it is all about. With wild yells the humans decamp. If they had waited two seconds longer they would have seen the bear light out as vigorously in the opposite direction.

Jim Laney, out in the berry patch looking for a stray horse, had a black bear rise up to look at him right in his face. The animal must have been asleep, or much preoccupied with the berries. Jim was carrying a bridle and with it he fetched the bear a clip across the nose.

"Get out of here!" Jim advised the bear.

And the bear promptly got. Jim knew bears; the average tenderfoot would have had "a narrow escape."—

Beltrami county, Minnesota, on the of the United States through a geo-believing that this territory was south of the forty-ninth parallel instead of north of it.

TOTAL U. S. WEALTH IS $320,000,000,000

Shows 72.2 Per Cent Increase in Ten Years.

Washington.—The American nation, reputed to be the richest in the world, is worth $320,808,802,000, the Department of Commerce reported recently. In ten years, between December 31, 1912, and December 31, 1922, when the last survey was made, the national wealth increased 72.2 per cent. On December 31, 1912, it was placed at $189,299,664,000.

Per capita wealth increased from $1,950 in 1912 to $2,918 in 1922, an increase of 49.6 per cent.

The huge increase in the money value of the nation's wealth, the department said, is due principally to the rise in prices in recent years, and not entirely to a corresponding increase in the quantity of wealth, as economists figure it.

All classes of property, except live stock, increased in value in the ten-year period, the department reported.

The estimated value of taxed real property and improvements increased from $96,923,406,000 to $155,908,025,000, or 60.9 per cent.

Exempt real property, exclusive of national parks and monuments, rose from $12,313,520,000 to $20,505,519,000, or 66.5 per cent.

Stocks of goods, vehicles other than motor, furniture and clothing rose from $34,334,291,000 to $75,983,607,000, or 121.3 per cent.

Railroads and their equipment rose from $16,148,522,000 to $19,950,800,000, or 28.5 per cent.

Privately owned telephone and transmission enterprises, other than railroads, increased from $9,572,855,000 to $13,607,570,000, or 42.1 per cent.

Manufacturing machinery, tools and implements rose from $6,091,451,000 to $15,733,260,000, or 159.1 per cent, an indication of the industrial expansion of the country.

Farm implement machinery increased from $1,368,225,000 to $2,604,638,000, or 90.4 per cent.

Live stock values slumped from $3,238,339,000 to $5,507,104,000, or 6.9 per cent.

Other increases reported follow:

Privately owned water works from $290,000,000 to $360,885,000, or 24.4 per cent; gold and silver coin and bullion from $2,616,643,000 to $4,278,155,000 or 63.5 per cent, and the United States navy from $402,352,000 to $1,445,992,000, or 259.4 per cent.

Suddite Found in Nile Is Equivalent of Coal

New York.—For centuries it has been remarked and returning travelers relate today that a strange growth of thick weeds and sedge near the surface of the water of the Nile, above Khartum, is responsible for the impassability of the river at that point.

French scientists, after a painstaking investigation of this twiggy, weedy, grassy, soggy, fiber-like mass called suddite, constructed first a theory that this was the sort of stuff that, under proper geological conditions, became what we recognize as coal, and they set about to prove their hypothesis.

There are 35,000 square miles of this Nile suddite. It roots about three feet beneath the surface of the river and grows to about twenty feet in height from the bed of the Nile.

Now, the first step taken by these scientists was to arrange for the transportation of the suddite to Khartum. The natives, every three weeks, cut the mass down, tie it in faggots, make rafts of the material and float it to Khartum. This is taken to an industrial plant and transformed into dry, compact packages.

In tests made on Nile steamers suddite proved itself equal to coal.

HERRICK REFRIGERATORS

The Big Difference In Refrigerators

The main object of any refrigerator, of course, is the preservation of foods. The refrigerator that will keep foods in perfect condition longest is naturally the refrigerator you want—provided it doesn't increase your ice bills.

The Herrick answers those requirements with facts—not claims. And it does even more. It actually decreases your ice bills while giving you more effective food preservation.

And why? Simply because the Herrick is far more than an ice box—far more than a cold storage place. It is built on the scientifically demonstrated principle that more than merely cold air is necessary to keep foods in good condition for any great length of time.

Perhaps the biggest essentials to scientifically correct refrigeration are—

- No. 1. Circulation of cold dry air.
- No. 2. Effective Insulation.
- No. 3. Air-tight construction.

That the Herrick has these necessary essentials is a demonstrated fact.

Many proofs of the truth are visible even to the least informed purchaser. Others are hidden within the walls of the refrigerator, but nevertheless there, performing their functions so important to good health and economy.

Sports Blouse as Part of Wardrobe

Garment Helps Out Winsome Combinations; Can Be Made at Home.

The blouse has become a very necessary and decorative part of the wardrobe of every well-dressed woman. By clever planning, observes a fashion writer in the Kansas City Star, it may become a half part of two or three costumes, and the better three-quarters of several others.

You may cut the cost of the three described in this article either by making them yourself or by engaging a competent seamstress to copy them for you.

Here are three correct types: The sports blouse, the tunic blouse, and the tunic blouse. The tunic blouse transforms any skirt it is worn into a very up-to-date dress.

The sports blouse may be of dimity. This type of blouse should be worn only with country clothes, a tailored suit, or as part of a businesslike jersey or flannel dress. It may also be of English broadcloth, in which case its scope is enlarged to include the golfing costume and the riding habit.

The costume blouse is the most important part of the three-piece suit, which is worn more than ever. By purchasing a two-piece suit you will not only be more free in your choice of models, but will cut the price also. The most up-to-date model to complete just this sort of ensemble is the monogrammed overblouse of metal cloth which has been sponsored by several of the most famous Parisian dress-makers. This blouse is expensive at the blouse counters, but could be copied at home.

An original way of applying the

monogram is to work out an individual device of one's own, but the majority in evidence are conventional patterns which are easily transferred and embroidered.

The tunic overblouse is a very smart and convenient development of this season's craze for things Chinese. It may be made of crepe to match the lining of your suit, or to harmonize with your costume, or it may be made of satin discreetly trimmed with metal. To be thoroughly in the fashion it should be of satin, either white or black. It should fit easily to the waistline, and flare slightly from the hips down, and it should be trimmed with a touch of metal—the smartest way is in small buttons or narrow lines of metal braid. You will need a yard and a quarter of satin.

Brilliant Colors for Scarfs and Mufflers

The scarfs seen in the shops make a perfect blaze of color. Every conceivable sort of scarf is dyed vividly—the woolen mufflers and wrap-arounds, and the filmy chiffon and lace affairs in many lovely shades. Spanish lace scarfs are particularly effective, dyed deep orange, vermilion, green, blue, violet or flamingo scarlet. These are picturesque, and women love to possess them, if not to wear, to carry or to have about for the grateful note of color.

Charming scarfs light as clouds are cut like a cape or the diagonal fold of a small shawl—a triangle that covers the shoulders well. They are trimmed around the edge with a wide feathery fringe of ostrich of the same shade. One of these sheerest scarfs furnishes just the necessary bit of protection required for the shoulders in a décollete gown at the theater.

Serpent Design for Bracelets and Rings

Startling novelties in the form of a serpent are among the latest ideas for bracelets, rings and girdles. These are made of the pliable metals and give a touch of the picturesque to a gown. They are shown in comparatively inexpensive, though effective, imitations, the better ones in silver and gold, chased in pretty designs, some set in jewels. A serpent in green gold, with brilliants for eyes and small emeralds set in the head, is designated to be worn as a girdle, the sole trimming on an evening gown of heavy "wedding" satin.

HERRICK
REFRIGERATORS

HERRICK
DRY AIR SYSTEM
REFRIGERATOR

The Big Difference In Refrigerators

The main object of any refrigerator, of course, is the preservation of foods. The refrigerator that will keep foods in perfect condition longest is naturally the refrigerator you want—provided it doesn't increase your ice bills.

The Herrick answers those requirements with facts—not claims. And it does even more. It actually decreases your ice bills while giving you more effective food preservation.

And why? Simply because the Herrick is far more than an ice box—far more than a cold storage place. It is built on the scientifically demonstrated principle that more than merely cold air is necessary to keep foods in good condition for any great length of time.

Perhaps the biggest essentials to scientifically correct refrigeration are—

- No. 1. Circulation of cold dry air.
- No. 2. Effective Insulation.
- No. 3. Air-tight construction.

That the Herrick has these necessary essentials is a demonstrated fact. Many proofs of the truth are visible even to the least informed purchaser. Others are hidden within the walls of the refrigerator, but nevertheless there, performing their functions so important to good health and economy.

Sports Blouse as Part of Wardrobe

Garment Helps Out Winsome Combinations; Can Be Made at Home.

The blouse has become a very necessary and decorative part of the wardrobe of every well-dressed woman. By clever planning, observes a fashion writer in the Kansas City Star, it may become a half part of two or three costumes, and the better three-quarters of several others.

You may cut the cost of the three described in this article either by making them yourself or by engaging a competent seamstress to copy them for you.

Here are three correct types: The sports blouse, the tunic blouse, and the tunic blouse. The sports blouse transforms any skirt it is worn into a very up-to-date dress.

The sports blouse may be of dimity. This type of blouse should be worn only with country clothes, a tailored suit, or as part of a businesslike jersey or flannel dress. It may also be of English broadcloth, in which case its scope is enlarged to include the golfing costume and the riding habit.

The costume blouse is the most important part of the three-piece suit, which is worn more than ever. By purchasing a two-piece suit you will not only be more free in your choice of models, but will cut the price also. The most up-to-date model to complete just this sort of ensemble is the monogrammed overblouse of metal cloth which has been sponsored by several of the most famous Parisian dress-makers. This blouse is expensive at the blouse counters, but could be copied at home.

An original way of applying the

monogram is to work out an individual device of one's own, but the majority in evidence are conventional patterns which are easily transferred and embroidered.

The tunic overblouse is a very smart and convenient development of this season's craze for things Chinese. It may be made of crepe to match the lining of your suit, or to harmonize with your costume, or it may be made of satin discreetly trimmed with metal. To be thoroughly in the fashion it should be of satin, either white or black. It should fit easily to the waistline, and flare slightly from the hips down, and it should be trimmed with a touch of metal—the smartest way is in small buttons or narrow lines of metal braid. You will need a yard and a quarter of satin.

Brilliant Colors for Scarfs and Mufflers

The scarfs seen in the shops make a perfect blaze of color. Every conceivable sort of scarf is dyed vividly—the woolen mufflers and wrap-arounds, and the filmy chiffon and lace affairs in many lovely shades. Spanish lace scarfs are particularly effective, dyed deep orange, vermillion, green, blue, violet or flamingo scarlet. These are picturesque, and women love to possess them, if not to wear, to carry or to have about for the grateful note of color.

Charming scarfs light as clouds are cut like a cape or the diagonal fold of a small shawl—a triangle that covers the shoulders well. They are trimmed around the edge with a wide feathery fringe of ostrich of the same shade. One of these sheerest scarfs furnishes just the necessary bit of protection required for the shoulders in a décollete gown at the theater.

Serpent Design for Bracelets and Rings

Startling novelties in the form of a serpent are among the latest ideas for bracelets, rings and girdles. These are made of the pliable metals and give a touch of the picturesque to a gown. They are shown in comparatively inexpensive, though effective, imitations, the better ones in silver and gold, chased in pretty designs, some set in jewels. A serpent in green gold, with brilliants for eyes and small emeralds set in the head, is designated to be worn as a girdle, the sole trimming on an evening gown of heavy "wedding" satin.

FAVORS MELLON PLAN

Coolidge Would Make Further Tax Reform a Campaign Issue.

Washington, June 4.—Republican leaders say President Coolidge has made further tax reform one of the issues of the coming campaign. They say the program will be, first, the re-formation of a Mellon tax plank in the Republican platform; second, a vigorous campaign for popular endorsement of this stand, and third, a "big stick" attitude toward the December session of congress, if he is elected on this platform in November.

The administration attitude toward the new law during the campaign will be that it was the best obtainable under the conditions. There will be no disposition to claim it as a Republican accomplishment.

Car Men Accept Award.

Cleveland, June 4.—William Polk, president of the streetcar men's union, said that, though the arbitration board's award is not entirely satisfactory, the union will abide by it. The men were granted an increase of 12 cents an hour. The award has been repudiated by the Cleveland Railway company. Polk said: "We will prepare the necessary contract based on this award and will present the contract to President John J. Stanley of the railway company." Meanwhile car company officials were standing firm in their declaration that they would ignore the report of the arbitration board—a board from which they ordered their own representatives to withdraw at the first meeting following the close of the hearings.

FAVORS MELLON PLAN

Coolidge Would Make Further Tax Reform a Campaign Issue.

Washington, June 4.—Republican leaders say President Coolidge has made further tax reform one of the issues of the coming campaign. They say the program will be, first, the reversion of a Mellon tax plank in the Republican platform; second, a vigorous campaign for popular endorsement of this stand, and third, a "big stick" attitude toward the December session of congress, if he is elected on this platform in November.

The administration attitude toward the new law during the campaign will be that it was the best obtainable under the conditions. There will be no disposition to claim it as a Republican accomplishment.

Car Men Accept Award.

Cleveland, June 4.—William Polk, president of the streetcar men's union, said that, though the arbitration board's award is not entirely satisfactory, the union will abide by it. The men were granted an increase of 12 cents an hour. The award has been repudiated by the Cleveland Railway company. Polk said: "We will prepare the necessary contract based on this award and will present the contract to President John J. Stanley of the railway company." Meanwhile car company officials were standing firm in their declaration that they would ignore the report of the arbitration board—a board from which they ordered their own representatives to withdraw at the first meeting following the close of the hearings.

BOXING CONTEST
Put on by the Armory Athletic Club
Next Friday Evening.

Frankie Susnell and Al Leever, the Portsmouth boys who appear on the Armory boxing card Friday, will come to Circleville this afternoon and will complete their training for the bouts here. Their first period will be at 8 this evening and fans are urged to drop in and watch them work out. Admission will be free to all who wish to come. These two boys have done some big things lately and are very much in the public eye.

Monday evening Frankie Susnell scored a twelve round win over Phil O'Dowd, of Columbus, one of the leading contenders for the featherweight belt. This win places Susnell among the leading lights of the ring and he is going after the title. At the same show, Al Leever won over young Fredericks, of State. By all paper dope available Leever and his Friday night opponent, Joe O'Malley, should be as near equal as they are ever found. Figure up their respective performances in Circleville, even, and it is easy to see that these youngsters will put up a battle.

Soldier Mellow, who meets Susnell Friday, has been showing up better in every scrap and is now where he ought to be. He is in excellent condition and he is working up his mit work to the point where it is more than satisfactory to those who have him in charge. Mellow and Susnell are going to give the fans something to shout about.

Tickets are going good and indications are for another large and enthusiastic house. Popular prices will prevail as heretofore. Seats are to be obtained at several places in town or from members of the companies. The service will be of the best and with the excellent card that is promised this will be an affair of great interest in this community.

AUTO COLLISION.
At the turn in the curve of the Williamsport pike at the Crites elevator Tuesday afternoon the truck of Buck's Greenhouses, driven by C. J. Jensen of Washington C. H., which was going west ran into and collided with the touring car of Emmett Morris. The latter's car was badly torn up. The front axle was bent, radiator smashed, windshield broken and fenders demolished. With Mr. Morris were Clifford and Charles Sowers, employees of the county surveyor's office, who were returning to this city. None of the occupants of the car were injured. Mr. Jensen stopped his truck, rendered assistance and assumed all liability for the accident.

The word is derived from the Greek words "kenos," meaning "empty" and "taphos," meaning "tomb." In other words, a cenotaph is a sepulchral monument erected in honor of a person whose body lies elsewhere.

AMUSEMENTS
The Henry King production of "The White Sister" starring Lillian Gish and shown last night for the first time at the Met theater stands as one of the truly great motion pictures. It is a perfect visualization of F. Marion Crawford's widely read story, told in all its dramatic intensity and filmed in Italy against the beautiful back grounds described in the original.

Miss Gish rises to supreme heights in the remarkable photodrama. Her portrayal of Angela places her in a class by herself—the one, real thrilling genius of the screen.
The actual eruption of Mt. Vesuvius is shown. Molten lava, flowing down the side of the mountain is pictured with the mouth of the crater belching forth its deadly fumes and fire. On top of this comes a flood, with an entire town being wiped out. "The White Sister" is a picture that nobody should miss. It was made in Italy by Inspiration Pictures, Charles H. Duell Jr., president and is released thru Metro.

LOGAN ELM

This blooming shrubbery will adorn the front of the sheriff's residence.

A seedling from the famous Logan Elm, has been donated to Sheriff Young by Frank Tallmadge of the State Archeological and Historical society with the request that it be planted on the court house lawn.

The shrubs and trees that will be planted will be placed in that portion of the lawn that will not be disturbed as in the near future it is the intention to make and build an addition to the court house in order to provide provide special rooms for the ladies, who will serve on jury.

Passion, wisdom, creative genius, the power of mystery or color, it has been wisely said, are allotted in the hour of birth and can be neither assimilated nor learned. For good and evil—for he was a mixture of evil and good—Verlaine possessed all these qualities. "Clay Dogs"

A "fossil apple" and a "fossil banana" recently were sent to the New York Botanical garden with requests for explanations. Dr. Arthur Hollick, paleobotanist, says many strange objects are sent to museums for identification or for verification of the finder's conviction as to what they are. A large number of these finds are concretions and apt to simulate any object, organic or inorganic. A concretion consists of an inner part—a nucleus of some kind—around which is deposited layer upon layer of the mineral substance that forms the exterior part. These concretions, which are commonly called "clay dogs," usually occur in connection with clay deposits.

The minute you start using a De Laval you get something to sell for cash—cream; and in addition you get skim-milk to grow into another crop of calves, pigs and chickens. Two sources of profit, and a steady cash income every day.

This is the surest, safest and most profitable way of farming—and the De Laval Separator makes it possible. It is the original separator, skims cleaner, lasts longer, turns easier than any other. There are over 2,500,000 De Laval Separators in use the world over—about as many as all the rest put together. The De Laval has always led in every important separator improvement.

Troublesome Weeds

a Menace to Alfalfa

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Weeds are, perhaps, the greatest enemy of the alfalfa crop, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Dodder, which acts as a parasite on alfalfa plants, is very objectionable in seed-producing districts. It does not ordinarily give much trouble in fields that are devoted entirely to the production of hay, but nevertheless there is great prejudice against seed contaminated with dodder, and most states have stringent laws against the selling of seed containing it. It is relatively easy to kill out patches of dodder in a hay field.

Other troublesome weeds are bluegrass and quackgrass in northeastern United States; crab-grass and Bermuda-grass in the central and southern states; and foxtail or wild millet in the Middle West and the great plains. In the irrigated sections of the West the wild barleys, also known as foxtail and squirrel-tail grass, are decidedly troublesome, as the beards ruin the first crop of hay for feeding unless it is cut very early.

Where weeds are troublesome in the West, wheat is sometimes drilled in the alfalfa in the fall, and as it comes on early the growth of weeds is checked. The first cutting of hay the following spring consists of a mixture of alfalfa and wheat. Cultivation of established stands of alfalfa may help to hold weeds in check, but unless done with considerable care the crop may suffer. The best way to fight weeds is to make conditions so favorable for alfalfa that they are smothered out.

When weeds become abundant in an alfalfa field it is usually better to plow up the field and make a fresh start than to try to rogue them out.

Vaccination Recommended

for Control of Blackleg

Regardless of the perfection achieved in the control of blackleg the disease continues to exact considerable toll every year. Treatment of the sick animals, of course, is fruitless. After death the carcasses should be disposed of by deep burying or, better still, by burning. The best way to combat the disease is by building up immunity in susceptible animals by vaccination. It should, however, be remembered that protection is not built up until after eight to ten days after vaccination. When the immunity or protection is once established, it continues from fifteen to eighteen months. Ordinarily calves under six months and cattle over four years are not vaccinated, the disease being most prevalent between these two ages.

Clean Chicken House to

Eradicate Harmful Mites

To eradicate mites a thorough cleaning of the chicken houses and spraying with a suitable disinfectant having a sufficient body is all that is necessary. All roosts, loose boards, and boxes should be removed and the disinfectant applied in the form of a rather coarse spray, using a suitable pump. Some of the best materials for the purpose are the so-called wood preservers which consist of anthracene oil and zinc chloride. As a mixture of this kind is a little too heavy to spray well, it may be thinned with an equal part of the kerosene. Crude petroleum is almost equally effective and is usually cheaper. It should be thinned by adding one part of kerosene to four parts of crude oil.

Outline of Method for

Seeding Sweet Clover

A good method of seeding sweet clover or other clovers is to sow it on oats ground. It may be sowed at the same time and with the same machine if a drill with grass seed attachment is used; or it may be sowed after the oats are sowed and the seed covered by harrowing or rolling. Sweet clover is not likely to smother out the oats, though on some timber lands which are rich in minerals and poor in organic matter it might happen that the clover would tend to check the growth of the oats. If the land is rich enough in organic matter to grow good oats the clover will not be likely to injure the oats to any extent.

Milk Indispensable in

Feeding Young Chicks

It is generally agreed that sour milk or buttermilk should not be fed to chicks in galvanized containers. When fed, glass, porcelain or earthenware utensils should be used. The lactic acid in the milk may act on the galvanized containers, resulting in a chemical combination which may prove poisonous, resulting in chick losses. Milk is indispensable in feeding chicks, and if properly fed there is absolutely no danger in feeding it. Perhaps the type of container has been responsible for the occasional report of unsatisfactory result in feeding milk. It is of course, necessary to keep the utensils clean.

Soy Beans Provide Feed

for Dairy Cow in Winter

In order to provide a winter's supply of cow hay equal to alfalfa in feeding value, try soy beans. In ordinary seasons a crop of soy beans grown immediately after the removal of the wheat crop will yield from one to two tons of hay an acre. The wheat stubble should be plowed and the beans drilled at the rate of 40 to 60 pounds an acre any time up to August 1, earlier seeding being preferred.

MACK PARRETT

Prisoner Had Novel Excuse for Leaving

The Dunsuns of Borneo have never grown up. At least to a considerable degree their minds are like those of children. They are, however, both ingenious and naive. To illustrate those traits Mr. I. H. N. Evans in his book, "Among Primitive Peoples in Borneo," tells this story:

The prisoners at Kotabelud used to be taken down to the river on Sunday to wash their clothes and to bathe; a policeman armed with a loaded carbine would always be in charge of the gang. One day when the guard was asleep a prisoner dropped quietly off the raft on which the others were washing and let the current carry him to a small island, where he landed and hid himself.

When the policeman had finished his snooze he collected his prisoners and marched them back without noticing that he was a man short. When the relief guard appeared, however, he counted them, and, not finding the correct number, asked for an explanation, which of course the first policeman was unable to give.

Meanwhile the missing man lay safely concealed on the island until he saw the other prisoners return to the jail; then he slipped quietly into the river again, swam to the opposite bank and started across country.

When the matter was reported to the European officer in charge of the post he had the sleepy policeman punished, and then started to find the prisoner. He sent policemen to the runaway's village to make inquiries, as an escapee prisoner nearly always travels straight for home. Sure enough, the policemen found him there.

On being charged with running away he replied he had not tried to escape, but that while bathing in the river he had suddenly remembered that he had not paid his poll tax to the government for that year; he had returned to his village merely in order to get the money!—Youth's Companion.

FICKARDT'S ROUP AND CHOLERA DROPS

On May 7, 1924, I called on Elmer Doner, Ashville, R. F. D. No. 1, and he told me the following:—

I bought four hundred (400) chicks of a hatchery and while there I bought some tablets to prevent disease or cure them if they were sick. Very soon the chicks began to die, I tried the tablets that I had obtained at the hatchery. I then bought other tablets liquids and powders, all nationally advertised remedies, but none of them did any good and my chicks kept on dying until I had lost 250.

A friend of mine told me of Fickardt's Roup and Cholera drops, at that time I had ten sick chicks in a pen separated from the well stock and I really considered them as good as dead.

I began to use Fickardt's Roup and Cholera drops with all my chicks, both well and sick. Two of the sick ones died, the other eight recovered and I have not lost any others since I began to use Fickardt's Roup and Cholera drops over a month ago.

I would have probably thought that the disease had run its course if it had not been for the fact that these that were sick recovered, but seeing the sick ones get well has convinced me that Fickardt's Roup and Cholera drops cured them.

DREAM AND SUCCEED

Dreams are made of star dust, we are told, but a better recipe is suggestion and imagination. Those who can look at a brick and see a castle are builders of a bigger and better world.

To be serviceable an imagination must be exercised. Do you want a suggestion? Look about you; a weed becomes an industry. If you want more encouragement turn to the classified advertisements and there you will find an ever changing department store full of them.

The business manager advises you to read classified advertisements when you want a job, an automobile or a candlestick, but these things are all at the main entrance of the store. Visit the bargain basement and the upper floors where great treasures are stored; uncensored news of human activities, relative values in parallel columns, heart-throbs and character studies educate and entertain. Best of all, however, is the stuff that keeps dreams alive.

Suppose your ambition is to own a farm. The classified advertisements will remind you of it, and lead you to concentrate your attention and energy on plans to accomplish success. When your dream has grown from a chance idea to a concrete possibility you will find the farm itself described among the classified advertisements.

There are only three kinds of dreams; those that are forgotten, those that never change and those that come true. Mount your wishes on thought and effort and they will ride to realization. — Portsmouth Times.

In Memoriam.

Editor Union-Herald: — Sarah A., daughter of Charles and Anna M. Graham, was born in Ross county, October 14, 1833.

She was married to Alfred Casady October 28, 1852. To this union were born four children, three sons, who died at an early age and one daughter, Mariah Elizabeth. Her husband died September 18, 1863, in Ross county. She and her daughter came with her mother to live at Commercial Point. August 28, 1879, she was married to Thomas J. Beckett, to whom she was a good companion and filled as best she could the place of a mother.

Her daughter, who had married Dr. S. M. Seeds, died February 23, 1908, in Columbus. Her husband, Thomas J. Beckett, died November 5, 1916, leaving her very lonely. She remained at her own home most of the time until 18 months ago when she went to live with her stepson, James W. Beckett.

She united with the church when a little girl and when she came to Commercial Point she brought her membership to the M. E. church. She was very active in church work always regular in her attendance at church services. She was a very earnest worker in the Foreign Missionary society, W. C. T. U. and the Aid society. She was greatly missed in these societies, when on account of her age she had to give up active work.

She departed this life in the early morning of May 31, 1924, at the home of James W. Beckett, in Columbus, Ohio, aged 90 years, seven months and 17 days.

She leaves to mourn their loss two grandsons, Carl Seeds, and Otto Seeds of Columbus, three great-grandchildren, a stepson and daughter, James W. Beckett and Mrs. Emma Barnhart and eight step-grandchildren. In her faith in Christ we find comfort.

Funeral services were held Monday, June 2, at 3:30 o'clock at the M. E. church at Commercial Point, conducted by Rev. T. M. Ricketts. Interment in the Beckett cemetery. The pallbearers were Carl Seeds, Otto Seeds, Charles Hott, Willard Barnhart, Arthur Hill, of Columbus and Pearl Hedges, Commercial Point.

New Fish Story.

A convalescing Indian fisherman in a Rangoon hospital was fishing along the foreshore recently when he caught a small fish. His basket being a short distance away, he put the head of the fish in his mouth, and closed his teeth on it, while he was rebaiting his hook. The fish slipped into his throat, and struggling to escape, got stuck there. The fisherman was hurried into the hospital, where an incision was made and the fish removed just in time to save the patient from choking to death.

Lighthouse That Fell.

There have been three or four Eddy-stone lighthouses. Henry Winstanley built one that was criticized by engineers as being unsafe. "It will stand the storm," he replied, "and I hope I may be in it when the first and worst gale sweeps down the coast." On the night of the first fierce equinoctial tempest the builder and some workmen went into the lighthouse. Next morning when the people along the shore looked for the lighthouse it was gone. The awful storm had swept everything away and the men had perished.—Boston Post.

Ideals of the Legion

Chairman Thomas H. McGowan of the Woburn (Mass.) school board recently expressed the ideals of the American Legion during an address made at a citizens' mass meeting held in that city.

"The American Legion offers itself as a constant reminder of self-sacrifice for the good of all. It does not ask for hero worship nor does it ask the American public for sacrifice. It asks only for encouragement in the great work it has undertaken in the care of needy comrades, in perfecting its organization into an all-inclusive entity of ex-service men, but above all to serve our country and our flag and to perpetuate the unexcelled traditions of a glorious history.

"The Legion strives to be unselfish in undertakings; it asks only for co-operation. The American Legion will maintain its place in the sun."

LEGION FATHERS ADDING COUNCILS

The American Legion Fathers, an auxiliary to the veterans' body, has already enrolled a number of councils—as the local units are termed—and applications for information concerning the auxiliary have been flooding national headquarters.

The first council to receive a charter from national headquarters was formed from fathers of men in Harvey post 155 of the Legion in Harvey, Ill. Harvey is a suburb of Chicago. Others of the first five to be established are in Malden, Mass., St. Paul, Minn., Topeka, Kan., and Bellingham, Wash.

The charter fee for a council is $10, and the application must be signed by ten men, either fathers of active Legionnaires, or of men who made the supreme sacrifice in the World war. The organization is not permitted to have either a state or national authority and is governed by the Legion post to which attached. The movement is primarily for the counseling of the Legionnaires, and assistance in carrying out the principles of the veterans' organization.

Wealth and Industry as Well as Man Power

Conscription of wealth and industry as well as of man power, as enunciated in the universal draft act, has received unanimous support from 4,000 Boston citizens.

This bill, now in congress, provides that every national resource be turned to government control in case of war in order to provide the utmost for protection of the nation. Gen. Charles R. Edwards, commander of the American Legion in Massachusetts, who spoke at a great mass meeting held in Boston, said that the greatest tragedy of the World war was the failure to conscript other resources as well as those of manhood.

Another Legion speaker who was acclaimed for his stand in this direction, was Maj. George L. Berry, international president of the Printing Pressmen's union, who spoke before a gathering of Legion men in the Hub city. Berry, a past national vice commander of the Legion and high in circles of labor organizations, declared that the passage of such an act was the best means to forestall war.

The bill was first passed as a resolution at the New Orleans convention of the Legion, and subsequently introduced in congress. It has received support of Secretary of War John W. Weeks, and other statesmen.

Interpretation of New York Insurance Laws

Compensation insurance rates for firms employing slightly disabled World war veterans should not be higher, according to the Interpretation of state insurance laws made by Gov. A. H. Smith of New York.

The executive's ruling came in response to a protest from Department Commander E. E. Spafford of the American Legion in New York, who said that certain veterans found it difficult to obtain employment because their physical condition increased rates for workmen's insurance offered by private concerns.

According to Commander Spafford, the veterans had been accepted only as extra hazardous risks, and the Legion sought clarification of the state's attitude by word from the governor.

"I can state to you," wrote Governor Smith to Commander Spafford, "that the state insurance fund does not consider veterans suffering from a partial disability as extra hazardous risks, and takes no action, directly or indirectly, whether in premium rates or merit rating, which would in any way discourage employment of partially disabled veterans. Each accident is considered on the merits of the accident alone."

Wins Essay Contest

The privileges and obligations of an American citizen was the subject chosen by the American Legion in Lowell, Mass., for the annual essay contest. Konstantinos Soukaras, a high school student, was awarded first prize for his essay, which was selected from nearly 200. Soukaras was also winner of an essay contest inaugurated by the National Guard unit in Lowell; the subject was "Armistice Day and Its Meaning."

Prisoner Had Novel
Excuse for Leaving

The Dunsuns of Borneo have never grown up. At least to a considerable degree their minds are like those of children. They are, however, both ingenious and naive. To illustrate these traits Mr. I. H. N. Evans in his book, "Among Primitive Peoples in Borneo," tells this story:

The prisoners at Kotabelud used to be taken down to the river on Sunday to wash their clothes and to bathe; a policeman armed with a loaded carbine would always be in charge of the gang. One day when the guard was asleep a prisoner dropped quietly off the raft on which the others were washing and let the current carry him to a small island, where he landed and hid himself.

When the policeman had finished his snooze he collected his prisoners and marched them back without noticing that he was a man short. When the relief guard appeared, however, he counted them, and, not finding the correct number, asked for an explanation, which of course the first policeman was unable to give.

Meanwhile the missing man lay safely concealed on the island until he saw the other prisoners return to the jail; then he slipped quietly into the river again, swam to the opposite bank and started across country.

When the matter was reported to the European officer in charge of the post he had the sleepy policeman punished, and then started to find the prisoner. He sent policemen to the runaway's village to make inquiries, as an escaped prisoner nearly always travels straight for home. Sure enough, the policemen found him there.

On being charged with running away he replied he had not tried to escape, but that while bathing in the river he had suddenly remembered that he had not paid his poll tax to the government for that year; he had returned to his village merely in order to get the money!—Youth's Companion.

FICKARDT'S ROUP
AND CHOLERA DROPS

On May 7, 1924, I called on Elmer Doner, Ashville, R. F. D. No. 1, and he told me the following:—

I bought four hundred (400) chicks of a hatchery and while there I bought some tablets to prevent disease or cure them if they were sick. Very soon the chicks began to die, I tried the tablets that I had obtained at the hatchery. I then bought other tablets liquids and powders, all nationally advertised remedies, but none of them did any good and my chicks kept on dying until I had lost 250.

A friend of mine told me of Fickardt's Roup and Cholera drops, at that time I had ten sick chicks in a pen separated from the well stock and I really considered them as good as dead.

I began to use Fickardt's Roup and Cholera drops with all my chicks, both well and sick. Two of the sick ones died, the other eight recovered and I have not lost any others since I began to use Fickardt's Roup and Cholera drops over a month ago.

I would have probably thought that the disease had run its course if it had not been for the fact that these that were sick recovered, but seeing the sick ones get well has convinced me that Fickardt's Roup and Cholera drops cured them.

DREAM AND SUCCEED
Dreams are made of star dust, we are told, but a better recipe is suggestion and imagination. Those who can look at a brick and see a castle are builders of a bigger and better world.

To be serviceable an imagination must be exercised. Do you want a suggestion? Look about you; a weed becomes an industry. If you want more encouragement turn to the classified advertisements and there you will find an ever changing department store full of them.

The business manager advises you to read classified advertisements when you want a job, an automobile or a candlestick, but these things are all at the main entrance of the store. Visit the bargain basement and the upper floors where great treasures are stored; uncensored news of human activities, relative values in parallel columns, heart-throbs and character studies educate and entertain. Best of all, however, is the stuff that keeps dreams alive.

Suppose your ambition is to own a farm. The classified advertisements will remind you of it, and lead you to concentrate your attention and energy on plans to accomplish success. When your dream has grown from a chance idea to a concrete possibility you will find the farm itself described among the classified advertisements.

There are only three kinds of dreams; those that are forgotten, those that never change and those that come true. Mount your wishes on thought and effort and they will ride to realization. — Portsmouth Times.

RIOT OF COLOR

Spring Rains Have Made Flower Gardens Most Beautiful.

Fleur-De-Lis, the national flower of France, commonly known as the flag, in this country and under its botanical name of Iris, the name taken from the Greek Irides, goddess of the rainbow, is now in full bloom and in some gardens outshines any other flower. Iris is a flower of the temperate zone only; it does not bloom in the tropics.

There are three species of this beautiful flower, Japan, American and German. The cultivated Iris, is a far improvement on the old-style purple and "valler" flag of the garden, or those you see blooming along the roadside. The blooming time of the Iris, is in the wet, tearful months of May and June. They then leave the gardens to the roses, which come in June with the Columbine, the aristocrat of the floral realm.

To one who has never seen other than wild iris, the old-time blue flags the cultivated iris is a revelation. Great spikes of bloom, a gorgeous riot of color meets the eye, the transformation is so pleasing that you are bound to get into a state of ecstasy when you suddenly behold them in all their pristine beauty right after a rain. Irises are the most gorgeous things in the whole floral family. Their great big droopy jaws fall down from their mouths in which is secreted the most pleasing perfume that is imaginable.

In the gardens of Mrs. Orion King on West High street and that of Barton Walters on East Franklin, can be seen growing the most wonderful and beautiful collection of irises in this city. Can you imagine irises in blue, lavender, maroon, paper white, lemon magenta, old gold. Irises with their great long ears and jaws, bordered with one color and set off with variegated stripes, but they are all there. These flowers are not fantastic colors but are hybrids and it took years to cultivate them to their present beauty. In the floral garden of Mrs. Orion King are also to be found beautiful blooming Columbines. They are also known by the botanical name of aquilegia, the esthetic would probably prefer the Columbine to the iris. It is beautiful, the delicacy of its bloom far surpasses that of the iris. It is a most aristocratic looking flower, gracefully swinging like a bird out it a spike, is a show house in itself. Flower time is the most pleasant time of the year and if the unwelcome copious rains have done nothing else it has made the earth bloom like a rose and made the outdoor world beautiful.

"DEARBORN INDEPENDENT."

Much discussion has been caused by articles appearing in Henry Ford's Weekly, because of the fearless attitude in which the articles are discussed. It has been described as "The Chronicle of the Neglected Truth."

The conflicting statements, half truths and prejudiced personal views flooding the country today in the discussion of public questions make it exceedingly difficult for the average person to form accurate conclusions.

The editorials and articles dealing with current affairs printed in the Dearborn Independent possess an individuality and character not found in other publications.

Subscriptions to the Independent are sold thru the Ford organization and just now Bob Brehmer is carrying out a plan of giving away a pair of adjustable stilts to the boys who secure two subscriptions to the magazine.

This week E. L. McColgin compares salaries of our federal judges with those of the British bench in an informative manner. The Spanish Musolini and his troubles are outlined by H. A. Studdert Kennedy. Louis C. Karpinski tells how errors on certain early maps led Columbus to discover America. In a character sketch by A. R. Pinci we see the president of the United States in his true atmosphere.

Such articles as these and the fact that the price of the weekly is but nominal deserves your attention if the boys and girls solicit your subscription in order to make it possible for them to get a pair of stilts. 4juned&w.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

Sentence Suspended.

Merrill Smith, one of the boys arrested last week on the charge of chicken stealing, had a hearing before Judge Adkins in juvenile court, was found guilty, was given a fine of ten dollars and cost and was sentenced to the Boys' Industrial school. The sentence was suspended on good behavior.

Secured Judgment.

The First National bank, of New Holland, has secured a judgment against J. C. Vlerebome and Nancy J. Vlerebome for $1,007.77 with interest at 7 per cent from June 3, 1924. C. H. May represents the plaintiff.

MUSICAL PRODIGY.

Charles Kraft, of Longmont, Colorado, the 13 year old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Dresbach, of Pickaway township, is a musical prodigy and for the past two years has been playing piano selections in various cities of the state.

The Boulder News of recent date says:

"A number of pupils of the Longmont Conservatory of Music gave a program for two upper classes of the Boulder Preps at Boulder this morning, under the direction of Miss Lillian Montrose Grahame.

"Charles Kraft, 13 year old pupil of the conservatory, played two piano numbers being generously encoered by the students and praised by Principal Bretnall of the Boulder school."

IRVIN JOHNSON PROFESSOR.

Irvin Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, of this city, who was a member of '17 class of the Circleville high school and who graduated from Marietta college and then matriculated at Columbia university, New York City, has been selected to teach English at Hobart and Wilson colleges. The former is a college for girls and the latter for boys and they are located in the same town.

Professor Johnson was a most popular student at school and was known as "Peachy" among his intimates. He got this name thru the fact of always standing ace high in his studies.

To Mr. and Mrs. Sewell N. Dunton, Andover, Massachusetts, Friday, May 30, 1924, a nine pound son, Sewell Nightengale Jr.

W. F. M. S. MEETING.

The meeting of the W. F. M. S., of the Methodist church Thursday afternoon, at 2 p. m. at the church, is to be the largest one of the year and the group leaders are to be hostesses. A hundred per cent attendance is desired. Mrs. Frances Abernethy Reed is to be the speaker.

Bicycle for One-Legged Riders.

A French firm has devised an ingenious method of adapting a bicycle to the one-legged rider. The chain is cut and one end attached to the sprocket, while the other end is secured to a coil spring from the lower frame. In this way the rider simply pushes the pedal down, and the spring draws it up again, and the usual rotary motion so difficult for the one-legged rider is eliminated.

RIOT OF COLOR

Spring Rains Have Made Flower Gardens Most Beautiful.

Fleur-De-Lis, the national flower of France, commonly known as the flag, in this country and under its botanical name of Iris, the name taken from the Greek Irides, goddess of the rainbow, is now in full bloom and in some gardens outshines any other flower. Iris is a flower of the temperate zone only; it does not bloom in the tropics.

There are three species of this beautiful flower, Japan, American and German. The cultivated Iris, is a far improvement on the old-style purple and "yaller" flag of the garden, or those you see blooming along the roadside. The blooming time of the Iris, is in the wet, tearful months of May and June. They then leave the gardens to the roses, which come in June with the Columbine, the aristocrat of the floral realm.

To one who has never seen other than wild iris, the old-time blue flags the cultivated iris is a revelation. Great spikes of bloom, a gorgeous riot of color meets the eye, the transformation is so pleasing that you are bound to get into a state of ecstasy when you suddenly behold them in all their pristine beauty right after a rain. Irises are the most gorgeous things in the whole floral family. Their great big droopy jaws fall down from their mouths in which is secreted the most pleasing perfume that is imaginable.

In the gardens of Mrs. Orion King on West High street and that of Barton Walters on East Franklin, can be seen growing the most wonderful and beautiful collection of irises in this city. Can you imagine irises in blue, lavender, maroon, paper white, lemon magenta, old gold. Irises with their great long ears and jaws, bordered with one color and set off with variegated stripes, but they are all there. These flowers are not fantastic colors but are hybrids and it took years to cultivate them to their present beauty.

In the floral garden of Mrs. Orion King are also to be found beautiful blooming Columbines. They are also known by the botanical name of aquilegia, the esthetic would probably prefer the Columbine to the iris. It is beautiful, the delicacy of its bloom far surpasses that of the iris. It is a most aristocratic looking flower, gracefully swinging like a bird out it a spike, is a show house in itself. Flower time is the most pleasant time of the year and if the unwelcome copious rains have done nothing else it has made the earth bloom like a rose and made the outdoor world beautiful.
